Look at these pandas. How lovely they are! Do you know the pandas only live in our country? Many countries in the world want to get pandas from China. And our country also gives pandas to other countries and regions as presents. In 2006, the mainland (大陆) decided to send two pandas to Taiwan. The dream became true on December 23, 2008---- two pandas arrived in Taiwan. They are Tuan Tuan and Yuan Yuan. To welcome their coming, many people cheered and lit firecrackers. A set of special stamps about the pandas were even first issued in the island.

When you walked in the street in Taipei, you will see the pictures of pandas on the wall or in the railway station. There are a lot of CDs, tool, pencil-cases of the pandas in the shop. Many children in Taiwan said, “The pandas are very lovely. Their eyes have black circles. Their ears are also black. How lovely they are!”

Not only children but also adults like pandas very much. They all went to the zoo to visit them. They took photos with the pandas. A lot of babies wanted to feed pandas with their food. But pandas only like eating bamboo.

Tuan Tuan and Yuan Yuan came to Taiwan with their favorite food--- about 600 kg bamboo and some apples, carrots. They are about four years old. People, especially scientists, hope they could give birth after they are used to living in Taiwan. Some people even wanted to name their baby after the pandas on the Internet. We hope they could live in Taiwan happily.

D. Read the passage and fill in the blanks with proper words (6%)

When Chinese people find out that someone comes from London, they often say, "London is a foggy city, isn't it?" British people who visit China often have to say that London is not a foggy city at all! London 1. to be a foggy city, but it isn't any more.

In London, lots of its pollution came from factories, but a lot of it came from coal(煤) because people burned it in their houses to keep 2. during the winter. By the 1950s, London's air pollution had become so bad that the government decided to do something to clean up the air. A new rule was made. It said that 3. was allowed to burn coal in any British city. Just a few years later, the air became much cleaner.

Now many Chinese cities meet the same 4. with air pollution. However, it is more difficult for Chinese cities to solve it. First, more of the pollution comes from big factories than from coal that people use in their houses. If these factories are 5. closed, lots of people will lose their jobs. Second, cleaner fuels are quite expensive. 6. , the air in many cities is already becoming cleaner, because the government and people are trying to make pollution less.

E. Read the passage and answer the questions (5%)

Reading newspapers has become an important part of everyday life. Some people read newspapers as the first thing to do in the morning; others read newspapers as soon as they have free time during the day so that they can learn what is happening in the world.

Sometimes, we do not have enough time to read all the news carefully, so we just take a quick look at the front page. At other times, we may be in such a hurry that we only have a few minutes to look at the headlines of the passage.

Newspapers can be found everywhere in the world. We can get many different kinds of newspapers in big cities, but in some mountain villages we can see few newspapers.

Some newspapers are published once a week, but most of the papers are published once a day with many pages, some even published twice a day! You know different people enjoy reading different newspapers. Some like world news, and others prefer short stories. They just choose what they are interested in.

Today newspapers in English have the largest number of readers in the world. The English language is so popular that many Chinese students are reading English newspaper such as China Daily or 21st Century. Also they bring us more and more information with the Internet.

1. Why do people read newspapers?

2. People in some mountain villages can see a lot of newspapers as well, can't they?

3. How often are most of the newspapers published?

4. What kind of newspapers are the most popular in the world?

5. Do you like to read English newspapers? Why or why not?
