A

What is a library for? Most libraries have books and other things to read. Many of them have things to listen to. Some libraries even have computers. Very few people would think of a library as a place to live in.

One library in New York City turned into a home for 250 people for a few days. These were all people near the library. They slept on the floor. Why did the people move into the library?

The people moved into the library because the city wanted to close it to save money. These 250 New Yorkers loved their library. They didn't want to lose it. So they moved in. They knew that the library couldn't be closed if they were living inside it. At last the city agreed to keep the library open, and the people all went home.

根据短文内容判断正 (A) 误 (B)。

- () 31. This story happened in the libraries in Australia.
- () 32. The library almost closed to save the city money.
- () 33. There were 350 people living in the library at that time.
- () 34. The people in this story liked to read books.
- () 35. A closed library would keep the people quiet.

On the first day of my sixth grade, I saw one little girl called Amy on the school bus. "Don't talk to her," said Lauren, who sat beside me, "or they will make fun of you."

Amy had many physical differences-lots of reasons for other kids to make fun of her. Her eyes weren't straight. Her glasses were too big. And she had really ugly teeth.

Every day as we drove to and from school, kids would insult Amy, "God, what a strange face! Stop looking at me!"

I had to be in silence. After all, I didn't want them to treat me in the same way.

But while I was insulting her, my heart ached for the girl. I could see that she was so ashamed and alone. Then I wanted to stand up for her. I just didn't know how to stop my schoolmates until the night of our class skating party.

Our whole class was there. Amy was there, too. Amy didn't know how to skate, but I could see how much she wanted to have fun like the rest of us. So I skated over to her and took her by the hand. She just smiled, and was very excited.

The next morning there was much news about Amy and me skating together. But nobody laughed at her or me. And they didn't for the rest of the year. I never heard from Amy again after the school year. But I've always hoped that I changed her life for the better.

36. What grade was the writer in when he first met Amy?

- A. Grade 1. B. Grade 2. C. Grade 5. D. Grade 6.

37. What did Amy look like?

- A. She was beautiful. B. She was ugly. C. She was fat. D. She was serious.

38. The underlined word "insult" has the similar meaning to "_____".

- A. laugh at B. look after C. wake up D. talk with

39. What did he do on their class skating party?

- A. He taught Amy to skate. B. He introduced Amy to others.
C. He drove Amy out of the party. D. He said sorry to Amy.

40. What happened after the party?

- A. Kids began to talk with Amy. B. Amy left the school.
C. Kids no longer laughed at Amy. D. Amy's life changed for the worse.

C

There will be a holiday next week and I can't decide what to do. I have a lot of work to do at home, and this would be a good chance to do it. But I would rather not spend the holiday that way. I can work at home all the rest of the year.

Last year I went north to the mountains. Everything was beautiful, but it was too cold this time of year. And it's really too far to go for a short holiday. I have decided that this is not a good time to go to the mountains. But I do want to go to some place.

Perhaps this would be a good chance to go to the beach. I like to go for a walk along the seashore in the warm sunshine and watch the water. It's only about eighty miles and I could get there in about two hours. After thinking it over, I'm sure that this is better time for the seashore than for the mountains. I guess I'll plan to go to the beach next week.

Oh, here is a letter from Jim. He says that he is going to his house in the mountains for the holiday, and he wants me to go with him. After giving it some more thought, I guess it wasn't really too cold last year. And perhaps it might rain at the seashore and then I wouldn't enjoy it at all. The mountains are only 300 miles away. I think I'll write to Jim right now and tell him I'll go with him.

41. The author is going to have a holiday next week. How will he spend his holiday? ____
A. He'll stay at home
B. He wants to visit his friend
C. He wants to go out for a holiday.
D. He is going to do all the housework at home.
42. What did the author do for his holiday last year?
A. He visited the History Museum.
B. He went to the mountain.
C. He went to the sea
D. He visited the Great Wall.
43. How did the author plan to spend his holiday first? _____.
A. He wanted to go to the sea for his holiday
B. He wanted to go hiking
C. He planned to do some shopping
D. He wanted to go skating.
44. The author's friend is going to _____ for his holiday.
A. the seashore
B. his home in the mountains
C. drive to Hainan
D. fly to Sydney
45. The author decided to _____ at last.
A. go with Jim and climb the mountains.
B. travel by himself
C. travel by car
D. go to a foreign country

D

Jane was not a good student. Her head was in the clouds most of the time. She wanted to listen in class, but other things seemed more important: her clothes, her hairstyle, films and television. Many times she tried to work hard at her lessons, but soon she became absent-minded.

One day, her math teacher gave the class an important lesson and told her students that there would be a test the next week. She helped them review all the week. Jane seemed to listen in class, but her mind went away again.

The day of the test arrived. Jane couldn't answer many of the questions on the exam. Mike, a very hard-working student, sat next to Jane. So Jane decided to copy his. Mike was very angry when he found Jane was copying his answers. He changed all his answers so that they were not right. Before the bell rang, Mike quickly changed his answers back into right ones. After the test, Mike turned to Jane and said, "All those answers you copied from my paper are wrong."

46. Jane thought a lot of things EXCEPT _____.
