Friendship Day in India falls on the first Sunday of August every year. It is celebrated with many activities.

Young people in India spend the day with their closest friends and have fun together. Most youngsters in India plan a movie or have a meal with their friends. Some friends may go on a drive to tourist places. Some friends go to the supermarket for shopping. On Friendship Day, most stores offer discounted (打折的) prices for customers and it is a perfect day to buy something for friends.

Some friends go to parties that are organized by many restaurants. Such parties are very enjoyable. You can get food at a discounted price. Some friends just decide to meet up (相聚) at someone's home and talk about their happy time. The time good friends spend sitting together and talking over a cup of coffee is wonderful.

Long-distance friends call up each other on this day and wish each other with warm feelings. Some of them even plan to meet up on this day. Yet some others plan a surprising visit just to see their friend gasp (喘息) in shock!

B

According to a new survey, now in main big cities of China some schools have started to open an unusual lesson: self-protection. Many students show more interest in it than in other lessons. Unlike other lessons, this lesson has no exam and doesn't require you to sit at a desk memorizing lots of information. What's more, the students can learn how to deal with danger. Here is something we have learnt from the class to help you deal with some dangerous situations.

★If you are robbed

Keep calm if you are not allowed to cry for help or run away. Give the robber your money or what he wants. Try to remember what the robber looks like and tell the police the robbery later on.

★If it is raining hard and there is lightning when you are out

Don't stay in high places, stay away from trees and find a safe place to stay, such as buildings equipped with lightning protection devices (避雷装置).

★When there is a fire

Put wet things on your body and find an exit as quickly as possible, but don't take the lift. If you can't go out, try to prevent the smoke coming in the room and then call 119. Of course, if you are allowed, open the window and shout for help.

Remember that danger is never as far away as you think. Take care of yourself at all times!

43. Why do students like the self-protection lesson?

- ① Because there is no test for the students to take.
- ② Because they can learn how to save themselves.
- ③ Because they can avoid any danger after the lesson.
- ④ Because they needn't remember much information.
