Flying High

A falcon

Once a king got two nice falcons from his son. He had never seen such beautiful falcons before. He loved them so much and he ordered (命令) the best falconer to train them to 1 .

After several months, the king came to see how the training was going on. He found that one falcon could fly high in the sky, while the other was 2 on the branch (树枝) of a tree and not moving at all.

The king called all his falconers together and ordered them to try every 3 they could to make the other falcon fly. But none of them was successful. One day, while the king was taking a walk in the forest, a (an) 4 came to his mind. Maybe someone who knew the natural environment well could 5 this problem. He sent for a farmer who lived in the forest into his palace to train it at once.

The next morning, when the king saw the other falcon flying above in the sky freely, he felt quite ____6____. "It is unbelievable!" shouted the king. "How could you make it happen?"

The farmer replied, "It's very ____7____. I just cut off the branch where the falcon rested."

It is always the same to human being. We all have "two flying wings (翅膀)" in our hearts as well, but we choose not to ____8____ them. We are resting on the "branch" just like the falcon.

This way we may feel safe and comfortable. We fly so high until the "branch" breaks.

One Kind of Happiness

An old man lived in a nice house with a large garden. He took care of his flowers all the time.

One day a young man passed by the garden. He saw an old gardener was watering the flowers. Then suddenly he found the old gardener was blind. He was very surprised about this and asked, "You can't see these flowers. Why are you busy taking care of them every day?"

The old man smiled and said, "First, I was a gardener when I was young, and I really like this job. Then, I can't see these flowers, but I can touch them and smell the sweetness of them. As to the last one, that's you."

"Me? But you don't know me." said the young man.

"Yeah, it's true that I don't know you. But I know that everybody thinks flowers are beautiful. They enjoy the happiness these flowers bring them."

The blind man's work opened our eyes and pleased our hearts. It also made his life happier. It was just like Beethoven (贝多芬) . Beethoven wrote a lot of great music, but there was something wrong with his ears in his later life. Beethoven himself couldn't hear his wonderful music, but his music gives millions of people courage to face their difficulties bravely. Isn't it one kind of happiness?

How many times have your parents told you that you must eat your green vegetables? We all know that green vegetables are healthy, but what about other foods of different colors? You don't need to like all food, but it is healthy to have different colors in your diet (饮食), for example, red food such as strawberries and tomatoes, orange food such as carrots and oranges and yellow food such as bananas and pears. But what about blue food? Is it in your diet?

A few years ago, a food company added the color blue to its bags of sweets. Children like the color blue, so were the blue sweets popular? The food company was surprised to find that they were very unpopular. Children still preferred the sweets that were the usual colors of red, green, brown, yellow and orange. They ate the sweets of all the usual colors but only left the blue ones out.

How many blue meats and vegetables do you know? None? There are few natural blue foods - it isn't a common natural food color. Some scientists say that as a result, our brain (大脑) doesn't think blue food as something healthy or safe to eat. This is perhaps why we don't usually use blue food coloring for drinks, cakes and other food.

Some people say we eat with our eyes. The idea is that we need to like the looks of the food before we try it. I wanted to test this idea and so I asked some friends to have a very unusual lunch. My husband and I made some eggs and put blue coloring in them. The result is nobody put the blue eggs in their mouths!

So will we ever see blue food on our plates? The answer seems to be "NO", at least in countries like the UK and the USA.

- (1) If we want to eat a healthy diet, we need to _____.
A. eat something blue
B. like all kinds of food
C. have food of different colors
D. eat a lot of bananas and pears
- (2) What colour of sweets were unpopular with children according to (根据) the passage?
A. Red.
B. Orange.
C. Blue.
D. Brown.
- (3) People don't use blue food coloring for drinks, cakes and other food, because _____.
A. human brain doesn't think blue food as something healthy or safe to eat
B. people think blue is an unhealthy and dangerous color
C. there are a lot of natural blue foods
D. people don't like the color blue

In school, students often work in small groups. But why? Is it necessary (必要的) to work with others? Do you feel more comfortable when you do some work alone? However, after you leave school, you will find almost all work needs teamwork.

A team is a group of people to finish a task together. We all know sports teams. The players work together to win a match. In fact, a team can only work well when all its members cooperate (合作) .

Teams need people with different abilities (能力) . Every team member works in his best way to make the whole team work best. When we work in a team, we have to know how each member can work best. Some may work best on task alone; others work best in groups.

Teams also need leaders. They are good at time-planning, and they have to make sure the group can finish the task just in time. They can encourage different members in the team to work best together. They can give different parts of the task to the members according to their characters (性格) and abilities.

Rules help teams work well. If groups work together without any rules, there might be problems. Just like an old saying goes "Too many cooks spoil the broth".

In a good team, people with quite different characters work well together. Actually, their differences are the strength (长处) of the team. To make our team work best in school, we should know what everyone in the group is good at, and more importantly, we should also know what everyone is not so good at.

- (1) How can a team work well according to the passage?
- A. The group stay together for a short time.
 - B. All the team members cooperate to work.
 - C. The group of people finish a task together.
 - D. The members in a group should work alone.
- (2) The words "Too many cooks spoil the broth" in Paragraph 5 mean " ____ ".
- A. too many people in a group don't need a group leader
 - B. the whole group can't work best without enough people
 - C. a serious problem may happen when groups work without any rules
 - D. the group can work better when every member works in his own way
- (3) What can we learn from the passage?
- A. A great leader is the most important for a good team.
 - B. It's possible for a good sports team to win each match.
 - C. It's not important to know what everyone is not good at a good team.
 - D. The members in a good team don't need to have the same ability or strength.
- (4) Which of the following would be the best title of the passage?
- A. How to Be a Good Leader
 - B. Different Abilities for a Team
 - C. Many Hands Make Work Best
 - D. How to Be a Member of a Team
