考察形式：句子排序题，一篇文章挖 5 个，给 7 个选项，移动鼠标把句子填进去。

It might be difficult to believe that laughing can improve your health, but many people insist that it is (1) best medicine. Laughter relaxes your body and helps you produce special chemicals which make you feel good. It may also encourage you to use your imagination, and some studies even suggest that if you laugh a lot, your heart will be healthier when you are older. Finding things to laugh about isn't always easy when you have a busy and stressful routine. However, many people around the world have found a solution to this problem by taking (2) in an unusual activity-laughter yoga.

Laughter yoga teaches students to laugh for a long time-often for around 30 minutes-without being interrupted. The teacher doesn't tell jokes in order(3) make students laugh; instead there are various exercises which make them feel relaxed and then make them laugh. "When people look at each other in this kind of situation ,they usually start laughing ," says Maddie, a laughter yoga teacher, "And even if the laughter is false for the first few minutes, it soon becomes real." This type of yoga reminds us that anyone can laugh, even people who (4) usually got a great sense of humor." I (5) to be quite negative and serious ," explains Maddie, "if I hadn't started laughter yoga, I wouldn't have changed."
