Nick Vujicic was born on December 4th, 1982 in Australia. Unluckily, he was born without arms or legs. At first, he was very unsatisfied with himself and felt sad. But later he practiced again and again and now he can swim, get dressed, use a computer easily and so on. Many people feel surprised about his experience.

He is humorous and honest. What's more, he spends most of time in helping the disabled. He usually gives young people speeches on life and dreams in order to encourage people to change their life by themselves.

From his story, I have learnt that we should not give up when facing difficulties in our life.
