Dear Peter,

How are you?

I went to a birthday party at a fast food shop yesterday. It was my kindergarten friend Vivian's eighth birthday. I met many kindergarten friends at the party. They have changed a lot!

Adam is very tall now. He was very short when he was five. Dora is quite short and fat now. I remember she was thin and tall when she was five. It seems she stopped growing taller. Vivian has long hair now. She had short hair when she was five. She played the violin at the party. I didn't know she could play it. Bravo!

My friends said I was the only one who had not changed much. I was fat and short when I was five, and I am still fat and short! Talk later.

Your friend,

Tony

(1) Whose birthday was it yesterday?

(2) How old is Vivian now?

(3) Who was tall and thin in the past?

(4) How is Tony now?
