Just as I came back home, I heard a sound coming from the bedroom upstairs—it was from my favourite violin.

"Thief!"

I rushed upstairs and saw a boy in dirty clothes pulling my violin down. At first sight, I found a new pair of shoes missing. It seemed he was surely a thief.

However, when I saw his eyes full of fear, my anger disappeared. I smiled and asked, "Are you Mr. Ram's student Rubens? I'm his butler (男管家) . I've heard Mr. Ram say his student will come. It must be you."

"Has my teacher gone out ? " the boy said, "I think I'd better visit him again in a while."

I nodded and asked him, "Do you like playing the violin? "

"Yes, but I'm too poor to afford one." the boy replied.

"Then, I'll give you this violin." The boy looked at me surprisingly, but he picked up the violin. While going out of the room, he suddenly saw a huge photo of me playing the violin at the Grand Theatre of Sydney on the wall. His face turned pale. He stood there for a moment and ran out. He must have understood what had happened because no master (主人) would put up the butler's photo on the wall of his living room.

A few years later, at a music competition in Melbourne, I was invited to be the judge (评委). Finally, a violin player called Merritt won the first prize..

After the prize-giving, Merritt ran to me holding a violin box, his face red, and asked, "Mr. Brian, do you still know me? You gave me the violin, which I have treasured ever since! Today, I want to say sorry and give back this violin to you without regret..."

He was just the "Mr. Ram's student" !

Gary and Gavin were twin brothers who worked in a store owned by their father. After the father had passed away, they took over the store. One day, Gary left the bill on the cash register (收银台), but when he returned, the money was gone.

Gary then asked his brother, "did you see that twenty-dollar bill on the cash register? " Gavin said no. But Gary did not let it go and kept asking. That made Gavin very angry and they quarreled with one another. The quarrel divided the young men. Later, a wall was built in the center of the store. For twenty years, hostility (敌意) never ended.

One day, a strange man came to the store. He walked in and asked Gary, "How long have you been here? " Gary replied that he'd been there all his life. "Then you are the person I'm looking for," the man said. "Twenty years ago, I was totally broke and hungry. I entered this store from the back door and saw a twenty-dollar bill on the cash register. And I took it. All these years I haven't been able to forget that. I had to come back and apologize for that."

The stranger felt shocked when seeing tears well up in the eyes of the middle-aged man in front of him. "Would you please go next door and tell the same story to the man in the store? "

Gary asked. Then something surprised the stranger even more--after hearing his story, the two middle-aged men hugged each other. After twenty years, the wall that separated them finally came down.

Beijing able to go to a perfect university is what every high school student dreams of. However, for Jin Chengkuang, a high school senior at Shenzhen Experimental Chenghan School, his long-standing dream has been to be a film director. He has received offers from four top art schools in the United States, which means he is already on the way of making his filming dream come true.

Although Jin is only 18 years old, he has had some experience of filming. During his three years in high school, Jin produced four more short films besides Choose and Out of Control, which were more successful.

According to Jin, he shot Choose with an Argentinian student when he was at a summer school programme in New York. It was a short film about freedom. The film was produced in a classroom with only a fish tank as the main prop (道具) . To express the opposite of freedom, the tank was empty in the beginning, but suddenly, a fish appeared and swam freely in the tank. In the end, the fish disappeared, leaving us an open ending. It took Jin and his partner one month to finish the six-minute short film.

As a beginner, Jin has been quite lucky so far. Last winter, he got a chance to join the well-known film director Chen Kaige when they travelled to Northern China to film Legend of the Demon Cat.

Jin said, "A great film takes everyone's efforts. Although the conditions were pretty poor, it was all worth it because I learned a lot."

- (1) Where did Jin produce the film Choose?
- A. In America.
 - B. In Canada.
 - C. In Argentina.
 - D. In China.
- (2) The writer said Jin was quite lucky as a beginner because _____. .

A man sees a butterfly. The butterfly tries to get out of its chrysalis (蛹) . Feeling sorry for it, the man decides to help. He cuts the chrysalis and the butterfly comes out easily. Surprisingly enough, the butterfly is unable to fly. If the butterfly doesn't struggle (奋斗) to leave the chrysalis, it can't fly! The struggle develops the energy in the butterfly which makes it fly. Similarly, the challenges of life bring out the best in young people and make them fly.

When people are young, meeting and overcoming challenges will make them strong and ready to face life. When we look at successful people, we see that the most successful of them are people who have had to struggle. One famous businessman, who now owns many big supermarkets, used to carry clothes on his back and sell them from door to door when he was young. Another successful man is Dennis. His father died when he was only twenty. His father's death forced him to mature fast. He had to bring up a family of nine people. He took up the challenges and overcame them. Today his brothers and sisters are leading successful lives.

Sometimes challenges do not appear to us because we keep away from them. So some parents and teachers actively encourage young people to face challenges. They might organize some activities for young people which provide them with challenges, like rock climbing, camping, volunteer work and so on. However, just passing exams will not prepare a person for life. We must meet and overcome challenges. The young people of today will become the leaders of tomorrow. For countries to continue to become successful, it is important that the young people learn to meet challenges and overcome them.

(1) From the story we know that the butterfly can't fly because ____ .

- A. it gets out by itself
- B. the man feels sorry for it
- C. it doesn't want to challenge itself
- D. the man helps it come out

(2) Dennis' example shows that successful people should ____ .

- A. overcome the difficulties
- B. take up business early
- C. become the leaders of tomorrow
- D. sell clothes from door to door

(3) Which statement is TRUE?

- A. Young people should face challenge because they are strong.
- B. Losing his father made Dennis mature in a slow way.
- C. Rock-climbing and camping can shape the strong will.
- D. The most successful people don't need to struggle.

(4) What is the best title for this passage?

- A. God Helps Those Who Help Themselves
- B. Young People Must Deal With Difficulties Alone
- C. Nothing Is Impossible To A Willing Heart
- D. Challenges of Life Bring Out the Best in Young People
