One night when my wife was preparing dinner, our little son took a piece of paper to her which read:

For washing the car.....	$5.00
For making my own bed this week.....	$1.00
Going to the provision shop.....	$0.50
Playing with little sister	$0.25
Taking out the rubbish.....	$1.00
Getting a good report card.....	$5.00
And for sweeping the common corridor.....	$2.00
Total	$14.75

His mother looked at him standing there expecting payment. I could see a thousand memories flashed through her mind. So she picked up the pen and turning the paper over, this is what she wrote:

For 9 months I carried you, growing inside me.....	No Charge
For the nights I sat up with you, doctored and prayed for you.....	No Charge
For the toys, food and clothes and wiping your nose.....	No Charge
When you add it all up, the full cost of my love.....	No Charge

Well, when he finished reading, he had great big tears in his eyes. He looked at his mother and said, "Mummy, I love you." Then he took the pen and in great big letters wrote on the "bill" "All paid."

61. The son brought the paper to his mother because ____

63. The son wrote on the bill "All paid" at last, because ____
- he got all the money he wanted
 - he didn't need the money anymore
 - he found that his mother was angry with what he said
 - he realized that it was not right to ask for money for the housework
64. What do you think of the mother in the passage?
- Clever.
 - Polite.
 - Cold-hearted.
 - Humorous.
65. We can know from the passage that ____
- children should be paid for their housework
 - children should spend time doing housework

- C. the mother's bill is full of love
- D. the mother is unwilling to pay for his son's housework

It seems usual that a mother should help her daughter with hair braiding(扎辫子). However, there is a different story in America.

"Beer and Braids" is an event started by Calli, who comes from Denver, Colorado. Calli is the owner of a hair salon. She decided to hold such an event for dads and their little girls because of her husband's friend. Not long ago, the friend arrived late for a meeting because his wife was out and he had to help with his daughter's hair braiding. However, he just looked at his daughter's hair and didn't know how to do it.

Hearing the story, Calli had such an idea at once. "Many of my customers are ladies. They work outside while the dads stay at home," she said. "So it's necessary to tell dads how to care for their daughters like mothers."

The event works like this: Dads pay$55 to get one-on-one training and then try to create all kinds of hairstyles for a competition. The dad who finally wins the event will get six bottles of beer and all the girls can get a full bag of hair products to take home.

According to Calli, the girls love the time spent with their dads. They take the chance to get dressed up and enjoy dinner out after the event. "And the dads become more patient to stay with their daughters after the training," she added. It's no longer embarrassing(尴尬的) for dads to do such things. They are more believable to braid their daughters' hair instead.

66. The passage is mainly about ____
- A. moms braid their daughters' hair instead
 - B. Calli became the owner of a hair salon
 - C. girls take chance to get dressed up
 - D. dads became more patient
67. Calli decided to hold such an event because ____
- A. she owns a hair salon
 - B. she will get six bottles of beer
 - C. her friend's story gave her an idea
 - D. she can get a full bag of hair products to take home
68. It is clear that ____
- A. parents pay$55 to get one-on-one training
 - B. only moms help her daughters with hair braiding
 - C. dads believe in braiding their daughters' hair in the end
 - D. Calli has got a lot of money by holding such an event in America
69. If you join in the event with two daughters, you should pay ____
- A. $55
 - B. $110
 - C. $165
 - D. $220
70. We learn from the passage that ____
- A. "Beer and Braids" is a name of a salon
 - B. Calli's husband was once late for a meeting
 - C. moms became more patient after taking the training
 - D. dads used to be embarrassed to help with hair braiding

六、阅读理解填词 (本题共 10 分, 每题 1 分)

Don and his 11-year-old son, Aaron, love basketball. For Aaron's birthday last October, Don decided to take him to Cincinnati, more than two hours' drive, for the first game of the World Series(联赛). They had no tickets. They had to buy a pair from scalpers (票贩子).

After arriving, they walked in the streets for two hours, carrying a sign that said, "We need two tickets." There were a lot of scalpers but the _____ ticket was $ 175. They were about to leave when a man stopped them. He took out two tickets and handed them to the father. "How much do you want?" "No charge(收费)." answered the man, "Enjoy the game."

Later, the man explained, "I was worried for Joe, who never missed a World Series in 16 years. But he was ill and couldn't make it this time. So he told me to give the two tickets away. He asked me to give the tickets to the richest people. A lot of people looked as if they might just take the tickets and sell them. Then I saw you. You seemed very disappointed(失望) and you made me think of my dad and me when I was a child. I wanted very much to go to a World Series game with my father. But I never did."

Here is what Don said, "It's the most memorable (难忘的) thing that ever happened to us. We'll never forget that day."
