My parents always told me that I couldn't dance, because it was a girl's sport. But I never gave up my dream of becoming a dancing star. I practiced secretly, learning from books, __41__, and shows. However, without my parents' support, that dream seemed impossible to __42__.

One summer, my little sister Maggie was going to dance lessons. I immediately asked her to take me to the lessons, too. What a good __43__ to learn dancing!

One afternoon, I was practicing a new dance in my room when Maggie walked in.

"What's the matter, Maggie?" I stopped dancing.

"Denis, you are a great dancer! Can you __44__ me?"

"What is it?" I wondered.

"There'll be a dancing performance in my school, but the boys think I'm slow, and none of them wants to be my __45__. Could you dance with me for it?" She looked at me __46__.

"You can be a good dancer!" I __47__ her. "Let's show those people that they have been __48__ all along."

In the following months, we practiced every evening, hiding from my parents. I was having a fantastic time and soon Maggie __49__ a lot.

Finally came the big day. I became __50__ when I heard my parents would come to watch the performance. As the music began, I took a deep breathe and tried to __51__. We moved perfectly, shining with pride. From the cheering of the crowd, I was sure we had __52__.

My heart was beating wildly when I saw my father coming towards me. He put his hand on my shoulder. " __53__, son. Though it is hard for me to admit it, you really looked like you this stage(舞台). Go for it and make us __54__."

I'd been __55__ for this moment for so long. I knew that the road ahead wasn't going to be easy, but I wouldn't give up. I wanted nothing more in life than to dance.

B

A manager once advertised for a person to help him in his office, and nearly fifty people applied for the place. From all these people, in a short time, he chose a boy and sent the other away.

"I would like to know," said a friend, "how you came to choose that boy. He had not a single recommendation (推荐) with him."

"You are mistaken," said the manager, "He had many."

"He wiped his shoes before he came in, and closed the door after him, showing that he was orderly and tidy."

"He gave up his seat quickly to an old man, showing that he was kind and thoughtful."

"He took off his cap when he came in, and answered my questions promptly and peacefully, showing that he was polite."

He lifted up the book which I had purposely laid on the floor, and placed it on the table, while all the rest stepped over it, or shove it aside, showing that he was careful.”

"And he waited quietly for his turn, instead of pushing the others aside; showing that he was modest.”

"When I talked with him, I noticed that his clothes were carefully brushed, his hair in nice order, and his teeth as white as milk. When he wrote his name, I observed that his fingernails were clean, instead of having tripped with pen.”

"Don't you call these things letters of recommendation? I do and what I can tell about a boy, by using my eyes for ten minutes, is worth more than all the impressive letters he can bring me.”

61. The manager's choice for the boy made his friend probably_____.

- A. satisfied B. embarrassed C. surprised D. disappointed

- A. the manager dropped it on the floor carelessly
B. the manager put it there for the boy to pick up
C. the manager laid the book there for the others to read
D. the manager wanted to know what would happen to the book

65. We can infer that _____.

- A. a normal letter of recommendation is always important
B. people should wear their best clothes for a job
C. a person without a letter of recommendation is luckier
D. the manager's way of choosing a person is the best

C

A teacher had been very annoyed by some of his boys whistling during school hours. At last he knew he would have to punish anyone who repeated the offence(过错).

The next morning, when the room was quiet, a loud whistle was heard! The students were surprised, and the teacher at once looked around to discover the offender.

The blame (指责) fell on a bad boy who was often in trouble, he strongly denied(否认) whistling. However, his words were not believed, for he was not a truthful boy. The teacher brought him up to be punished.

Seeing what was about to happen, a thin little boy, about nine years old, who had been anxiously watching the event, rose from his seat.

“Do not punish John, sir,” he said to the teacher. “It was I who whistled, I was doing a long, hard sum, and when I rubbed out another sum to make room for it, I rubbed out the difficult one by mistake. I spoiled it all, and before I knew that I had done, I had whistled out loud! I am very sorry, I did not mean to whistle, I cannot let John be punished for my fault.” He held out his hand to be punished!

Taking his hand, the teacher said, “Charles, you have done the right thing. You were honest and spoke the truth. I believe that you did not intend to whistle. I cannot punish you, after being so honest.” Charles returned to his seat with a flushed face, and even the youngest child in the school felt proud of him. Every student could see how bravely he had acted.

Charles was truly a brave boy. He had done that which he knew to be right, even though at the same time he might have been punished for it.

True courage may also be shown by refusing to do that which we know is wrong, though we may get in trouble or other children may laugh at us.

66. According to the teacher,_____.

- A. Charles should be punished for the whistle
- B. John should be punished for the whistle
- C. both of them should be punished for the whistle
- D. all the boys should be punished for the whistle

67. Charles blew the whistle because_____.

- A. nobody else did it
- B. he was going to cough
- C. he rubbed out the wrong sum
- D. he was used to whistling

68. John strongly denied whistling to show that _____.

- A. he was afraid of being punished
- B. he knew who gave the whistle

- C. his words had not been believed
D. he didn't give the whistle at all

69. The result of the event was that _____.

- A. John had been wronged and punished
B. Charles was praised for his courage
C. nobody cared about Charles' action
D. the teacher made a more serious rule

70. The best title for the passage can be _____.

- A. Teacher's Mistake
B. True Courage
C. Two Naughty Boys
D. A Sudden Whistle
