Dear sir，

I attended the evening show which began at 9 P．m．on 10th June at your cinema．

After returning home，I realized that I had left my briefcase in the cinema．Unfortunately，I had already thrown my ticket away．so I could not recall the seat number．I sat somewhere in the middle of the fifth or sixth row back from the front of the balcony(楼座).

I visited the cinema the day before yesterday，hoping to find out whether the briefcase had been handed in．However，the clerk on duty was not at all helpful．In fact，he was uncooperative or even rude．

The briefcase is a small，brown leather one with my initials(姓名首字母)in gold on the outside．It contained a bunch of keys and some documents of personal value．

I should be most grateful if you would kindly investigate(调查)the matter and check whether or not my case has been handed in．If it has, would you kindly let me know as soon as possible．

I would like to apologize beforehand for the inconvenience I have caused．

Yours truly，

John S．K．Leung
