Nick Vujcic is a world-famous speaker. His experience inspires a lot of people in the world.

He was born on December 4th, 1982 in Australia. He didn't have arms or legs when he was born, but he learnt to swim, get dressed, used a computer and so on. After graduation, he began to give speeches all over the world. And he talked about the dreams with young people. So far, more than three million people have listened to his speeches. He has been to China five times. He came to Chengdu to help the survivors in the earthquake in 2008. I think we should try our best to help the people in trouble. We should always try hard and never lose our hearts in the face of difficulties.
