~~When I was young, my parents always told me that I should never talk to strangers. They told me it was dangerous. But how could we make new friends if we were like that?~~

And then, how can we break the ice? Don't just look at your shoes. Go and say "Hi" to the person before you. It will be easier to break the ice if you know more about different cultures (文化).

British: Beautiful, isn't it?

The weather in Britain changes often. So, people often talk about it. Remember to say "yes" when others say this to you. It's just a start of a friendly talk, not a real question.

French: Where did you go on holiday?

To talk with a French person, the safest way is to ask his or her last holiday. French students enjoy a 10-to-15-day's holiday. French employees (雇员) get more than six weeks of holidays every year.

American: So, where are you from?

The US is so big and people move so often. You can try to find something about the place where they are from to talk about. For example, you could say, "Oh, I have a friend studying in your city."

I took my 9-year-old daughter, Susan and 5-year-old son, Robbie to the shopping centre. As we got there, we saw a big sign that said, "Petting Zoo". The kids jumped up and asked, "Daddy, can we go?"

Both my wife and I were out of work. However, I said, "Sure", giving them a quarter each. They went away, leaving only fifty cents left in my pocket.

A petting zoo is made up of a hundred of little baby animals of all kinds. Kids pay their money and stay in the enclosure(围场) while their parents shop.

A few minutes later, I saw Susan walking along behind me. I was surprised and asked what was wrong.

She said sadly, "Well, Daddy, a ticket for Petting Zoo costs fifty cents. So I gave Robbie my quarter." Then she said the most beautiful thing I ever heard. She repeated the family motto(座右铭): "Love is Action!"

I knew clearly no one loves little animals more than Susan. She had watched both my wife and me do and say "Love is Action!" for years, and now she put it into her lifestyle. It became part of her because she knew the whole family motto. It's not only "Love is Action"; it's "Love is SACRIFICIAL(牺牲的)Action!" Love always pays a price.

I was moved. We went back to the Petting Zoo. Susan stood with her hands and chin(下巴)resting on the fence and just watched Robbie go crazy petting and feeding the animals. I had fifty cents burning a hole in my pocket. I put my hand into my pocket and took out the money. Sure, I must do that!
