Teacher: Children. We are going to have a farewell party for Zhang Ming today. He is going to study in a new school next term.

Students: Why?

Zhang Ming: Because my father does well in his job and he has got a promotion in his hospital. My family is going to move to Zhuhai. I am excited.

Janet: We're going to miss you.

Zhang Ming: I am going to miss you, too.

Janet: How is your new school in Zhuhai?

Zhang Ming: It's like a park. The school is big, especially the playground. It's larger than ours. And behind the school, there is a hill. We can see many bamboo trees there.

Janet: Is your school far away from the city?

Zhang Ming: No, it isn't. It is quite near the city centre. I can go to school on foot by myself.

Janet: Do you have any new friends in Zhuhai?

Zhang Ming: Not yet. But I am sure I will have many. Will you come to see me on holidays?

Janet: Thank you for inviting me to your new home. That's great. I am going to tell my mum and make a plan.
